Artist: Studio Haydon, LLC (Andrea) studiohaydon@gmail.com

One of Andrea Haydon's previous bosses, Tim Barrick, sent this opportunity her way as Shelbyville is his current and hometown. Like Tim, Andrea worked for RATIO Architects and together they worked on the Blue River Trail several years ago. She has a fascination with blueprints coming from the architectural field, so this installation is a 1953 Sanborn map of Shelbyville that has been vectorized and used the Shelbyville blue for the background.

About Studio Haydon, LLC

She has studied experiential art and design in Hesse, Germany, was a part of the design team that created the graphics for Super Bowl XLVI in Indianapolis, has served as an adjunct professor at Herron School of Art + Design and was named one of the Top 100 Best Young Advertisers in the Country by the Art Directors Club of New York
