Artist: Kim Hunt                      huntkim123@gmail.com

Kim designed this piece with acrylic paint on canvas. She tends to prefer working with acrylic paint versus working with oil paints on canvases. This piece was inspired by color and line art. Kim is intrigued by the simplicity of line art, but must have color. Her original idea for this piece was a single face, but it obviously didn't stop with one. It's kind of fun to count the faces! This piece serves as a reminder that you can always find beauty in chaos!

About Kim

Kim's art journey started as soon as she could hold a crayon and she has been creating ever since. Her favorite aspect of art is taking a picture from her imagination and bringing it to life for others to see. She does a lot of custom pieces for others, but to her nothing beats a blank canvas with some imagination. Her favorite mediums to work with are pencil, acrylic paint, and digital design. She truly believes that everyone is an artist in some form and should always be encouraged to create!

Kim has an online portfolio and boutique, which can be found here!
